The Central New Hampshire Energy Committee Roundtable is a regional meeting for Local Energy Committee members and interested parties. This meeting will provide an opportunity for those working on energy matters in the region to share what they have been doing and discuss future opportunities for collaboration, workshops, and events. The session is designed to promote networking and information sharing among town energy committees to assist them in carrying out their work. Citizens in the region who are interested in working to address energy issues in their communities, or are interested in forming their own energy committees are also invited to attend.
